

Human Resources:

Having trouble making sense of the chaos in healthcare facility management?

Let us help! With more than 45 combined years of personal experience working in healthcare facility management as direct hospital employees and now as consultants, we are uniquely qualified to make sense of today's chaos.

We work with Human Resources to support the development, education, and advancement of facilities staff, from the trades through management. We can provide education, succession planning, assessments, and if requested, recruitment.

- Is the target audience properly identified?
- Have unique healthcare facility management differentiators been stressed?
- Has the appropriate skilled-set been identified?
- Is there a support infrastructure in place organizationally to support facilities staff?
- Have local complementary talent pools been identified and evaluated?

We partner with Human Resources to work through these items, and more, to identify, evaluate, and support facilities management.
